McGettigan Starts Probe of Escape Plot at State Home

All circumstances surrounding the detention and escape of eight youths from the Sonoma State Home over the weekend will be carefully investigated, District Attorney Toland C. McGettigan announced today.

Parents of one youth told the district attorney that their son has told them a story of being abused by attendents at the Eldridge institute.

"I assured the parents that I would be glad to look into the charges," McGettigan said.

"We will keep the boys that have been recaptured in the sheriff's office here for the present," the district attorney declared, and
